Kansas society women are refusing to serve on juries, many of them sending a butler to the door to inform the summoning officers that they are "not in." Sheriffs are demanding that the new voters serve, saying the men are too busy to serve on juries.

READY FOR PARCELS POST

Packages of Eleven Pounds Weight and Six Feet Size Allowed.

RURAL ROUTE SERVICE.

Mail Will Be Delivered to Everybody, Just As At Present.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Regulations to cover workings of the new parcels post system, which is to go into operation January 1 next, have been made public. The new system will be effective throughout the entire postal service at the same time and will affect every postoffice, city, rural and railway transportation route in the country.

The regulations provide that parcels of merchandise, including farm and factory products (but not books and printed matter) of almost every description up to 11 pounds in weight and measuring as much as six feet in length and girth combined, except those calculated to do injury to the mails in transit, may be mailed at any postoffice for delivery to any address in the country. Delivery will be made to the homes of people living on rural and star routes as well as those living in cities and towns where there is delivery by carrier. Where there is at present no delivery by carrier the parcels will go to the postoffice as is the case with ordinary mail.

The postage rate for the first zone—that is, within distances not exceeding fifty miles—will be five cents for the first pound and three cents for each additional pound. Rates increase for each successive one of the eight zones into which the country is divided, the maximum rate being 12 cents a pound, which will carry a parcel across the continent or even to Alaska and the Philippines.

For a fee of 10 cents a parcel may be insured and if the parcel is lost, in the mails an indemnity to the amount of its value not to exceed $50 will be paid to the sender.

The law provides for the use of distinctive postage stamps and there is now being distributed to postmasters for use in the parcels post system a set of stamps of 12 denominations. Parcel post maps, with accompanying guides, are to be sold to the public at the cost, 75 cents, through the chief clerk of the postoffice department.

BASE BALL

Players May Come Here In The Spring For Training.

There are possibilities that the Cleveland, Ohio, ball team may come here for training in the spring. The local managers have put in a bid for the team to come here, and Corsicana, Texas, has also offered inducements for the Cleveland men to make that their training place. We have everything they should reasonably ask for, splendid grounds and ample hotel accommodations, and everything else. By securing the Cleveland club the chances for securing good material for the Mogul team next season would be splendid.

Married In Evansville.

KEARNEY DROWNED

Pontoon Rescued From The Pacific Ocean Tells of End of Daring Aviator.

NO OTHER TRACE FOUND.

Machine In Which He Met His Death Named For His Fiancee, A Madisonville Girl.

Los Angeles, Dec. 16.—Horace Kearney, the young Kansas City aviator, attempting a hydro-aeroplane flight from Los Angeles to San Francisco, is believed to have been drowned, together with Chester Lawrence, a Los Angeles newspaper man, who was accompanying him on the trip.

A pontoon of the hydro-aeroplane, "Snookums," was picked up late today in the Pacific ocean by a motor boat four miles off Redondo Beach.

No other trace has been found.

Kearney flew last fall at Evansville, Henderson, Madisonville and other cities in the Ohio Valley. He was unusually daring.

Flying For Eighteen Months

Horace Kearney was 26 years old and had held his license eighteen months. In a tour of 105 days through the middle East last summer, he flew every day but one without an accident. At Springfield, Ill., his engine stopped.

His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kearney and a brother, Archie Kearney lived in Kansas City. He was engaged to Miss Louise McPherson of Madisonville, Ky., and named his new hydro-aeroplane "Snookums" after his pet name for his fiancee.

POSTMASTER WILLIAMSON

Announces an Innovation During Xmas Holidays.

During the Christmas rush of postoffice business Postmaster V. M. Williamson has arranged to make parcels delivery throughout the city by wagons.

This is an indication of the increased business done through the postoffice. It will be a great relief to the carriers and will be a good thing for the people. Already many Christmas packages are overloading the carriers and entail a great deal of work for them. So great is the work that they are about broken down before getting through with deliveries.

There has also been a great increase in the money order and special delivery business at the postoffice, and the inside people have plenty work to keep them as busy as bees during the day, to say nothing of the great amount of work to be done when the parcels post law goes into effect the first day of January.

The two express companies doing busy here are having all they can do to ship out goods for Christmas, and they are also on the eve of having to do much extra labor in receiving and delivering goods that will begin coming in the latter part of this week as well as handling thousands of packages of whisky sent to points where it is not sold.

American Ambassador To Great Britain Died Sunday.

SEVEN YEARS IN OFFICE.

His Wife And Daughter Were With Him, Son On The Ocean.

London, Dec. 16.—Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador to Great Britain since 1905, died at his London residence, Dorchester House, shortly after noon Sunday from pulmonary oedema. The end was quite peaceful. Mrs. Reid and their daughter, Mrs. John Hubert Ward, were at the bedside. His son was on the ocean enroute to England. He was 75 years old and had filled many high offices.

GARNER DALTON

President Of New Corporation, Will Remain Here.

The many friends of Garner E. Dalton will be glad to learn that his connection with the Kentucky Metal Products Company will not necessitate his leaving Hopkinsville.

The new company was incorporated a few days ago. The incorporators are G. E. Dalton, President; Owen Tyler, J. F. Fairleigh, N. H. Dosker and Alfred C. Kreiger. Mr. Kreiger is the secretary of the company. The main office will be in Louisville. The company is capitalized at $30,000.

Mr. Dalton, who has been the Secretary of the Dalton Brick Co. of this city, for many years will continue in the same position. He is a splendid business man and Hopkinsville could not well afford to lose him.

Ever-busy Cupid invaded the precincts of the City Infirmary Sunday morning, October 20th, the day of the wreck of the Illinois Central railroad excursion train.

Among the most seriously injured by the wreck was Mr. Walter S. Wood, of this county. The physicians had Mr. Wood taken to the infirmary and he was put in charge of Miss Julia Breeding, of Hendersonville, N. C. The nurse was most faithful in her attendance on the injured man and she soon won his heart. After leaving the hospital he opened up a correspondence with Miss Breeding which culminated in an engagement, the nuptials to take place the day after Christmas at the Methodist church, Rev. A. R. Kasey to officiate.

Child-Training.

It is not fair to a small child for the parents or nurse to be careless about the little things that develop thoughtfulness, self-reliance and self-control in a child. Self-control is a characteristic absolutely essential to manhood or womanhood, and it is not learned in a day. It is the result of patient teaching and training through all the long years of babyhood and childhood.

Yield of a Grain of Wheat.

Very few people have an idea of the bounty of nature. A scientist of Cambridge, Eng., recently made an instructive experiment which showed that a single grain of wheat sown in June, produced 47 pounds 7 ounces. One acre of fairly good land will produce 30 bushels of wheat or 1,260 pounds of flour.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON
ARTISTIC HOME-MAKER

Mrs. Wilson undoubtedly will feel the thrill produced in the heart of every born house-keeper by the contemplation of the possibilities which every new abode possesses—and such an abode! Though the task is too large for one woman to supervise, Mrs. Wilson probably will make a tour of inspection every day, and, with her artistic knowledge and love of home making, will add many personal touches to the house and grounds.

The family probably will bring its negro servants, reminiscent of its southern home. Many of the servants at the White House are black. Thus Mr. Wilson will not discontinue the eating of "chicken, southern style" and candied sweet potatoes. In fact, the home life of the family will simply be taken up bodily and deposited against another background with not one of its integral parts disturbed. The Misses Wilson have interests of the kind that take girls from the fireside into the world and probably will find little time with their added social duties to aid their mother with the burdens of the establishment. Will they become frivolous or Washington society serious is the question everybody is asking.

Will the presence of three young women of serious mind, instead of school girls or debutantes dreaming of their entrance into the world of society with the historic environment of the president's house, deprive Washington society of the informal dances and dinners which delighted the younger set during the last administration? Miss Margaret Wilson has a rich soprano voice, which has been trained under New York teachers. Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson is a graduate of the Woman's college at Baltimore and has thrown herself heart and soul into sociological work. What the Lighthouse at Philadelphia, which is the scene of her settlement work, will do without her, or whether she will, as heretofore, spend only Sundays with her family, is not known. Miss Ellen Randolph Wilson has inherited her mother's skill with the brush and is a student at the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts. Will these young women give up their chosen vocations to live always in Washington?

That a family possessing such personality will make its imprint on the character and policy of entertaining at the White House is to be expected. The policy of the Taft regime caused the invitation lists to be reduced and the number of entertainments increased, so as to avoid the impersonal crashes which prevent "the first lady of the land" from really becoming acquainted with her guests.

"WHITE HOUSE BABY"
INTRODUCED TO SOCIETY

The most brilliant social function that Princeton, N. J., has seen in many years took place at "Westlands," the Cleveland home, the other afternoon, when Miss Esther Cleveland made her formal debut into society. Society people from all of the large cities of the east were present and over four hundred guests thronged the large and richly furnished rooms of the home of the late president of the United States.

The house was charmingly decorated with palms and chrysanthemums, countless roses and other flowers of the season that had been sent to Miss Cleveland were everywhere around the house. The guests were received in the large drawing-room by Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Perrine, Mrs. Cleveland's mother, and Miss Cleveland.

While Mrs. Cleveland did not desire to have anything detract from making it Miss Esther's day, yet she herself received congratulations, for it was the first time many had seen her since she announced her engagement to Prof. T. J. Preston, who was present.

Miss Cleveland was gowned for the afternoon tea in white chiffon trimmed with silver, while in the evening her costume was of blue chiffon trimmed with pearls.

Caters to Popular Demand.

An enterprising Brooklyn dealer in second-hand furniture has hit upon a new plan for catering to the wants of his customers, whose preferences run to goods left in flats by "going away" owners. To satisfy the demands for bargains of this peculiarity and at the same time keep his regular stock down to par this dealer rents flats, fits them out in tasty style, advertises that the late owner was called suddenly to Europe or Timbuctoo or some other place and then holds the auction. "There is a class of bargain hunters who have a leaning to this kind of sale and who will buy in no other way," he says in excuse for his new method. "I give them the bargains they are looking for and throw in ideas as to fitting up their flats." He says the department paper—New York Sun.

The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

A Cash Offer.

The Kentuckian has made a clubbing rate with The Memphis Weekly Commercial Appeal by which we will furnish both papers for one year for the very low subscription price of $2.25. The Commercial Appeal is one of the largest and best papers in the South, and we hope to receive more new subscriptions on this offer; $2.25 cash for both papers.

FOWL BUYERS

Have Purchased Over 10,000
Turkeys For Shipment.

Clint H. Cayce, one of South Christian's most successful farmers, raised a large number of turkeys this year and began delivering them yesterday, a wagon load. They were sold to the Peter Fox Sons Co., the largest handlers of fowls that have ever engaged in the business here.

Some of the ladies in the Southern part of the county formed a pool last year and this and sold them at the up price. The ladies of the Pembroke, Bennettstown, Newstead and Julien neighborhood, and a few in Trigg county, headed by Mrs. I. G. Sallee, had about 1,300 turkeys to dispose of this year and sold them to the Peter Fox Sons Co. at 15¢ cents per pound. The fowls will be dressed at the company's quarters, at First and Railroad streets, and shipped to the large cities. The company is also buying all the surplus chickens, geese, ducks, etc., that are brought to them.

MERCHANTS BUSY

Waiting On Customers And Making Xmas Displays.

The merchants are quite busy now. The out-of-town people are looking for Christmas goods and are making liberal purchases. From now to the 24th the Christmas spirit will prevail and the shopmen have never had fuller stocks from which the advance agents of Santa Claus can make their selections. Many of the merchants are dressing their windows and arranging their holiday goods and by the end of the week the stores will be arranged quite attractively.

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs.

After a frightful coughing spell a man in Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs had been broken. What agony Dr. King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonsful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a God-send to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption to-day, if I had not used this great remedy." It's guaranteed to satisfy and you can get a free trial bottle or 50 ct. or $1.00 size at All Druggists.

Current Comment.

The Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle has a learned editorial on how to eat an orange, arriving at the conclusion that the best way is to skin the fruit and divide it into the natural segments. There is but one "best" way and that is to cut off the yellow coating with a knife, like peeling an apple, not cutting through the outer coating, then cut the orange in half at its "equator" and dive in, one half at a time, sucking out the juice and leaving the veins in the cup-like skin.

A boom has been started at Washington to make Congressman Stanley attorney general in President Wilson's cabinet. It is predicted that with Stanley at the head of the Department of Justice a series of prosecutions would be instituted that would either break up the monopolies and combines in restraint of trade or would land a lot of crooked trust magnates behind the bars.

Children Should Have Good Light for Studying

A poor light strains the eyes, and the injurious effects may last for life. An oil lamp is best. The light from the Rayo Lamp is soft and mellow. You can read or work under it for hours without hurting your eyes.

The RAYO is constructed scientifically. It is the best lamp made—yet inexpensive and economical. Made of solid brass—nickel plated. Lighted without removing chimney or shade. Easy to clean and revivified. Made in various styles and for all purposes.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

At an examination held in a junior school a composition on cats was set. One young hopeful wrote the following: "Cats that's made for little boys and girls to maul is called 'Maltese' cats. Some cats are known by their queer purr; these are called 'Purrslan' cats. Others with very bad tempers are known as 'Angorie' cats. Cats with deep feelings are called 'Feline' cats. Very fine cats are called 'Magnificats'."

TIBET ISSUES NEW STAMP

Philatelic Curiosity That Probably Was Executed in Anticipation of Dalai Lama's Return.

A philatelic curiosity has just reached this country from Tibet. It is a postage stamp designed and executed apparently in anticipation of the return, after his long exile in India, of the Dalai Lama to rule once more over the land of the Lamas.

Of ruddy purple color, the stamp is very crudely designed and printed and bears traces of the divine ruler's long residence in India. It has evidently drawn its frame and spandrel ornamentation from the same value of the Edwardian one-anna stamp of India. In the place of the central portrait, however, there is the mysterious-looking beast identified as the white lion of Tibet. Possibly by an error of drawing the white lion is shown in color on a white ground.

The inscriptions are in native and English characters, the latter reading, "Tibet-Postage." The native characters are interpreted as (at top) Pod—Tibet, Shung—Government; (below) Yig—letter, The-Hu—postage or stamp, Kha—anna. Kang—one.—London Chronicle.

TO CONDUCT A BAND BY RULE

English Town Didn't Want the Director to Face the Audience, So Council Interfered.

The action of the director of the Eastbourne municipal orchestra, who varied the ordinary methods of the musical conductor by turning his back on his men while they were playing, was the subject of a long discussion at the meeting of the town council.

Councillor Eden moved that in future the musical director be requested to face his men while conducting the municipal band. No other conductor in England, he said, faced his audience, and it was utterly impossible for Mr. Henton to control the musicians in that way. The band ought to be conducted in proper English fashion. Eastbourne spent nearly $70,000 on its music, and it was too big a place to allow of trifling with the band.—London Chronicle.

ABOUT WOODEN HEELS.

The manufacture of wood heels was at one time almost confined to France, but some British manufacturers have applied themselves so successfully to this trade that they have not only succeeded in obtaining a large share of the home market, but have also invaded practically all the continental countries.

A special feature is the excellent variety of covered heels, such materials as celluloid enamel, kid, skiver, canvas and various colored leathers all being pressed into service for this purpose, while the butt (leather) cased Louis and military heels are exceedingly well finished and form a highly specialized product.

The advantages of wooden heels compared with leather are that they are lighter, wear longer and always retain their shape.—British Trade Journal.

HER MAGAZINE STORY

How Bob Found His Long Lost Ruth.

By ADELE MENDEL.

"Come on to bed, Robert; it's past midnight," said his roommate, Kenneth, as he knocked the ashes from his curved meerschaum pipe.

"Just want to read one more story and then I'll be with you," answered Robert, settling himself comfortably in the huge leather arm chair.

"One would think you were a love-sick maid, the way you devour those magazine stories," growled Kenneth. "I'm not a love-sick maid, but maybe I'm that kind of a man," said Robert with a quizzical air and throwing down his magazine.

"I've no doubt of that, none at all," emphatically answered Kenneth. "Any fellow of twenty-eight who refuses to call on girls, declines all invitations to dances, dinners and parties, who never changes the color or style of his necktie, has something wrong with him, mark my word."

"Her name is Ruth Wilson," began Robert, as if he were repeating a well-known lesson. "She was a little pen-and-ink sketcher and sold some of her work to our firm; that is how I first became acquainted with her. But our acquaintance soon grew to friendship, and then it wasn't many months before we both knew we were in love with each other. I wanted to marry at once, but Ruth insisted upon waiting a year, as she felt she had a future in her artistic career and was not as yet willing to give it up. Patiently I agreed, and at the end of the allotted time she begged for six months more. And then another and yet another delay, until one evening, as we were seated in her two-by-four hall-room studio on the third story of a second-class boarding house, irritated by her seeming preference for her profession when she again asked for a postponement of our marriage, I lost my temper and hurled unkind, angry words at the girl. Naturally, she resented my attitude. One word led to another, I banged the door and dashed like a madman down the stairs and out of the house. I walked miles and miles, publisher's office, where he discovered that the name signed to the story was the author's real name, and that she lived in a small suburb in the outskirts of New York. Jumping on a train, after two impatient hours he reached his destination. A pretty girl, with a twinkling eye and sympathetic voice, answered the bell. He introduced himself, explained his mission, and added:

"Tell me, please, where I can find your heroine, for find her I must."

"I'll gladly give you her address, but first I wish to explain how I came to have the story published. Ruth, after leaving New York in an unhappy state of mind, came here to visit and rest with me. Poor thing, she was so distressed that I begged her to tell me the cause. I never intended to use the story for material to sell, but just wrote it up because its dramatic possibilities appealed to me. Last fall I sprained my arm, and mother, addressing some manuscripts to my publishers, in mistake inclosed this story. I felt dreadful at the time to think that it might appear as a breach of confidence. But now, if it will be the means of bringing Ruth and you together again, I will be the happiest of girls."

Robert thanked the girl, boarded his train, and lost no time in reaching his office and writing a passionate appeal to Ruth for forgiveness.

Many and weary were the weeks that followed. Hope and despair alternated in Robert's breast, but no answer came.

"It's no use," he remarked one evening to Kenneth. "Ruth has received my letter long before this, and it is evident that she no longer cares enough for me to answer it. I don't—"

The telephone rang, and Robert stepped to the phone. He heard a soft voice say, "Is this you, Robert? I just received your letter, returned to me from England. I am stopping with my aunt, Mrs. Davenport, who, strange to say, lives in an apartment next to yours. Would you care to come over?"

"Would I care to?" cried Robert. "Oh, girl, just wait two minutes and see!"

As Robert bounded down the stairs, Kenneth said to himself: "I guess the little authoress won't be able to call her story 'Unfinished' any more." (Copyright, 1912, by W. G. Chapman.)

HIS FIRST USE FOR WEALTH

For a Millionaire, Mose's Aspirations Would Seem to the Ordinary Man Singularly Modest.

E. F. Swinney, president of the First National bank of Kansas City, was born in the south, says the Saturday Evening Post. He goes back home once or twice a year and it is part of the homecoming program to have Old Mose polish his shoes. Old Mose prides himself on the fact that he has known "Misteh Eddie" since he was born—and "his daddy befo' him."

When Mr. Swinney was there recently Mose was polishing his shoes. He stopped and asked:

"Misteh Eddie, how much is a million dollars?"

"Well, Mose," Mr. Swinney replied, "you have seen ten silver dollars, haven't you? Now, imagine ten of those stacks and you have a hundred dollars. Then ten times that and you have $1,000. Then ten times that and you have $10,000—and 100 times that and you have a million."

"Misteh Eddie," continued Mose, exceedingly troubled, "would all them silver dollars go on that table yondah?"

"No, Mose—not if they were piled to the ceiling. What would you do if you had a million silver dollars, Mose?"

Mose stopped shining. He pondered for a minute. Then he said: "Well, Misteh Eddie, I reckon I'd have mah cistehn cleaned out."

Deceived by Appearances.

John Melpolder, superintendent of the Boys' club, is very fond of walking. Melpolder was camping recently north of Broad Ripple and decided to walk to Indianapolis. The roads were dusty and the sun beat down unrelentingly. When Melpolder reached Broad Ripple he had covered ten or twelve miles and looked like a tramp. Coming to a fork in the road, and not being sure of the correct route, Melpolder approached two girls and a young man sitting in the shade.

"Can you tell me how to get to Indianapolis?" he asked. The correct road was pointed out and as he started to plod on one of the girls said:

"Why you are not going to walk, are you?"

"Why, yes," said the pedestrian, "I thought I would."

The young man fumbled in his pocket. "Here," he said, fishing out a dime, "you better ride the street car in. You can catch it about a square up the road."

Then each girl handed him a coin. Melpolder thanked them kindly for their proffered assistance, but declined the offer, saying that he preferred to walk. When he started on they looked after him in open-eyed astonishment.—Indianapolis News.

Real Comeback.

"Why do you spend so much care on the crease of your pants, hey?"

"It is important, dad, not to wear baggy trousers."

"Important, is it? Why, you young cub, look here. Did you ever see a statue to a man who didn't wear baggy pants?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MADE FROM SPINACH

DISHES THAT ARE HEALTHY AND PALATABLE.

Subrics of the Vegetable Are Recommended as an Excellent Preparation—Croustades Also Popular—Served With Butter.

Subrics of Spinach—Chop two pounds of cooked spinach, throw it into hot butter, add salt and pepper to taste and one tablespoonful of flour; let this cook for six or seven minutes, then take it off the fire and add three well-beaten eggs. Mix them with the spinach, and spoonful by spoonful drop them into a saucepan containing a sufficient quantity of melted butter to fry them. Turn the subrics from one side to the other and let them cook for three or four minutes; strain and serve them with a good white sauce.

Croustades of Spinach—Cut some bread into the shape of hearts, and slit them all around, then fry them in hot butter. Arrange the hearts in the form of a rosette. Next cut a round of bread, which slit in the same way, and place it in the center over the points of the hearts. Fry them till they are a golden brown, then cut out the interior, take out all the crumb and fill the space left with cooked spinach.

Spinach with Butter—Take two pounds of freshly picked spinach, wash it well in two or three cold waters, then drain it thoroughly and put it into a clean saucepan with four heaping tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour that have been cooked together but not discolored, cover the saucepan and let the spinach cook in this way till drawn down to a creamy consistency, which will take about twenty minutes, then rub it through a fine sieve and then return it again to the saucepan, add to it three tablespoonfuls of cream, re-boll, add a dust of white pepper and a very little salt, dish up and garnish it round with little croutons of fried bread or little pieces of puff paste that are baked a pretty golden color, and serve.

Stuffed Shoulder.

Remove bone or have it taken out where you buy it. Cut off all rind with some of the fat on it, roll about six common crackers very fine, pour enough very hot water to moisten well but not too soft. Pepper and salt to taste and one teaspoon of poultry dressing. Mix well with crackers, wash meat well and dry. Place in pan, put cracker mixture where bone had been, roll up, tie with string to keep in place. If you wish to have fat part on top flour well on top, salt and pepper, add one cup of water in pan, bake until a nice brown. When done take from pan, mix some flour in a little cold water. Thicken gravy on top of stove. You will find it delicious. With the bone you can make a nice pea soup. The rind with fat is put into tin plate in oven until all grease is out, but be sure not to burn it, and you will have a lot of nice lard for cooking, nice for cake or any kind of frying.

Chartreuse of Jelly.

Cut the center of a round sponge cake, leaving the bottom and sides thick enough to hold one quart of jelly. Prepare a lemon, orange, strawberry or coffee jelly. When it is cold, just ready to form, turn into the cake and set aside to cook. When ready to serve cover with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored. Do you add whites of eggs to gelatine when beginning to harden? Let cool. When ready to serve pour custard around the gelatine. Lemon jelly, with whites of two eggs added, is very nice.

Baked Pork Chops.

Wipe chops with a damp cloth and trim off excess fat. Core apples and cut in halves crosswise; put apples in pan with a little water and bake ten minutes. In the meantime dust chops with salt, pepper and a trace of sage and sprinkle well with ground bread crumbs. Set chops in pan and put into hot oven to bake, cooking till tender, about twenty-five to thirty minutes. Remove apples and chops to hot platter and make a gravy of the drippings in the pan and a cupful of boiling water, seasoning as necessary.

Dutch Hotchpot.

Boil six carrots with six onions (medium) until tender. In another kettle boil six medium-sized potatoes. Drain all the water from both, put them together, mash them well, add one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of sugar, one-quarter teaspoon of pepper, one-half cupful of butter and one-half cupful of milk or cream. Beat well and serve hot.

How to Serve Beefsteak.

Broil steak and season on a platter as usual. Make a dressing of bread crumbs with plenty of onion in it as for a stuffed fowl. Shape into small cakes, using an egg to help bind mixture, and brown in butter in a frying pan. Place these on the surface of the steak with a bit of parsley if you have it and serve.

Fruit Roll Pudding.

Make biscuit dough, using butter instead of lard and a spoonful of sugar. Sift flour lightly over the roll, dot with butter, put one cup of sugar and one pint of boiling water in pan. Any kind of fruit can be used. I like it best with sliced apple. Roll it out flat, spread with fruit and roll up pressed as above.

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine
ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

TASTES IN PERFUMES

STRONG SCENTS ARE NOT CONSIDERED GOOD FORM.

Some Subtle Fragrance, However, Every Woman Should Convey—Many of Them Are Nerve Stimulants and Healthy.

The first perfume came to us in the flowers. The perfumer, like the musician and the painter, tries to copy nature to please the senses of man.

The first to discover the art of perfumery were the natives of the Orient. Their ancient civilization was not alone responsible for this. These nations cultivate all things which delight the senses. The taste in perfume among various races differs exceedingly.

The first perfume was obtained by burning aromatic gums and woods. The word itself is derived from "per," through, and "fuming," smoke.

Perfumery was studied by the various nations which in turn held the scepter of civilization.

The Hebrews when in captivity learned the art from the Egyptians; the Romans from the Greeks, and the western nations from the Romans. With the fall of Rome the art was forgotten, and was rediscovered during the conquests of the crusaders in the far east.

The excessive use of perfume by refined people in Europe during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries was to counteract the unpleasant odors which abounded in those days.

Women of today display a refined taste in the use of perfumes, while their fore-mothers used musk, civet and lavender.

The progress in the art of perfumery is perhaps the cause of this. The perfumer of today is constantly seeking to wrest new secrets from nature. Hardly a flower grows that has not had its scent reproduced.

Strong perfumes are not considered in good taste in these days. The delicate, subtle fragrance is the one preferred.

Many scents are nerve stimulants and health-givers. Every woman has her glass bottle of lavender salts, so refreshing when tired or suffering from a headache.

France and England lead the world today in the manufacture of perfumes.

Each woman chooses her own beautiful scent and envelopes her belongings in it. Garments, laces, notepaper and even books exhale this delicate fragrance.

At present the fad for scent bottles and pomanders, worn about the neck upon long chains, is in high favor. These are in silver in antique design and incrustured with semiprecious stones.

More elaborate ones of gold duplicate those worn by court ladies during the reign of Louis XV. may be had; but they are rather expensive. Of recent design and set with jewels, they are wonderfully beautiful.

Pomanders or perfume balls of the seventeenth century are less expensive.

These come in many designs. Gold ones, representing oranges and heart-shaped designs in filigree work, readily allow the scent to escape. Others are small shaped or fashioned to represent English walnuts or tiny spheres carved and adorned with jewels.

The woman who keeps apace with the times must purchase a scent bottle.

SHOWING TWO IDEAS.

The return of the "Tour de Cou," and a charming hat by Lewis of white moire, edged with chantilly and lined with black moire.—London Madame.

Color Scheme.

A very good color scheme for a living room is in all the varying shades of brown, with now and then a touch of orange to brighten it, says Needlecraft. The floor should be given the darkest shade of brown, the walls a medium tone and the ceiling a cream shade. The furniture of this room could be of the best variety of mission, the rugs oriental with plenty of orange or red in them, and the curtains should have a decided golden tint, as the light shining through them is very beautiful against brown. A touch of yellow might be given in a couch pillow and lamp shade.

New Linings.

The newest linings for top coats are those of the Jouy taffeta. This fabric, with its pretty design, is entirely too effective to be concealed as lining, and is therefore allowed to show itself in the collar, revers, cuffs and trimming. The tints in the Jouy taffeta are quite as soft and well blended as in the cretonnes with which we have long been familiar.

DIDN'T QUITE UNDERSTAND.

The theatrical agent was interviewing Hamlet Brown, the tragedian. His object was to secure his services for a new play which was about to be produced. The actor, however, did not seem to take much interest in the project.

"What's it about, anyhow?" he asked.

"Well," replied the other, "the play is a historical one. The scene of it is laid in England; period, Henry V. During the whole course of the piece the king is absent in France. Now—"

"Say no more," interrupted the actor, with a lordly wave of the hand; "I take the part of the king. But, of course," he added, "I shall expect my expenses paid to France."—Weekly Telegraph.

No Profit in Alligators.

The difficulty about raising alligators to supply the demand for the animals and skins is that they do not attain full growth for about 100 years. The skin of the six or seven-year-old animal is available, however, for many practical purposes. There is one on a farm at Palm Beach which measures 18 feet in length and is said to be about 900 years old. There are several of these farms in operation at the present time, but the industry will not be really profitable until the wild alligators become scarcer.

CAPT. RILEY CORN KING

Raises 125 1-2 Bushels On One Acre of Land.

SEED SELLS AT $10 BUSHEL

Produces From Six to Twelve Ears to the Stalk.

Old Christian steps to the front this year as the champion in corn production per acre and Capt. J. W. Riley, of near Newstead, may justly lay claim to the title of corn king of Kentucky, if not of the entire country.

Capt. Riley was in town Monday attending the farmers institute. He said he let his boy have an acre of ground as a member of the boys' contest, and by careful cultivation the acre produced 125½ bushels. Estimating this at 5 bushels to the barrel, 125 bushels would be 25 barrels, with ½ bushel for wastage. The captain is selling the corn at $2 per bushel (shelled) for seed, which is $10 per bbl. Twenty-five barrels at $10 amounts to $250 realized on one acre of land. Estimating land at $35 per acre, the one acre put in corn this year paid for itself four times and $10 over. The yield was from six to twelve ears to the stalk.

TELEPHONE NOTICE!

As there seems to be some discussion in regard to telephone rates, and for the benefit of the subscribers living within the corporate limits of Hopkinsville, Ky., we quote you the following rates that the city Council granted in their franchise sold to the Cumberland Telephone Company in January 1911, which are as follows:

Business, single line. $3.50 per mo.
Professional, single line 3.00 per mo.
Residence, single line 2.00 per mo.
Business, duplex, (2-party) 2.50 per mo.
Professional, duplex, (2-party) 2.00 per mo.
Residence, duplex, (2-party) 1.50 per mo.

We will be very glad to give any further information to any subscribers regarding rates, or service, if they so desire.

AMUSEMENTS.

Coming Dec. 18.

"Forty-five minutes from Broadway" will be presented at Holland's Opera House on Dec. 18, in identically the same manner that has attracted enthusiastic crowds at George M. Cohan's theatre in New York City for one solid year. Never before has so elaborate and successful an attraction been brought here, and "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" already promises to establish new records for attendance.

Coming Dec. 21.

With the greatest singing and dancing chorus ever assembled with one show, with more song hits and exclusive features than were ever seen in any production, "The Smart Set," is coming back to Holland's Opera Dec. 21 to add new laurels to those earned. The production is entitled "The Darktown Politician." The Dixieland Drill, Southland Octette, Ragtime Jubilee, and half a score of other features aid in making the performance one long to be remembered with the greatest of pleasure. Entire house for colored people only.
